FLOOD ADVICE MESSAGE

The State Emergency Service advises that as a result of the recent and expected heavy rain, there is a potential for localised flooding along the Sturt Creek including Coromandel Valley and Marion, which may threaten the safety of you and your family.

SES advises that residents of these areas should ensure drains and gutters are clear and be aware that floodwaters may rise rapidly and are likely to be fast moving. You should never walk, ride or drive through floodwater or allow children to play in or near floodwater.

If you live or work close to the Sturt Creek you need to monitor the latest weather forecast and warnings and be prepared should flooding develop.

For SES assistance during floods phone 132 500. If the matter is life threatening call triple zero.

More information will be provided by the SES and the Bureau of Meteorology as it becomes available.

Repeating: the State Emergency Service advises that as a result of the recent heavy rain, there is a potential for localised flooding along the Sturt Creek including Coromandel Valley and Marion, which may threaten the safety of you and your family.
